About Rizzo Group

Rizzo Group is one of the leading building code, zoning, and land use consulting firms in New York City. Known for years as Charles Rizzo & Associates, and then 'CRA,' today, the firm is now called Rizzo Group to reflect the firm's team approach to building consulting. Their professional staff of architects, land use attorneys and engineers work with owners, development groups, design firms, and construction companies in order to obtain all necessary government approvals for any given structure.
